List institutions in Arkansas offering similar programs

Arkansas universities with a recreation management program: Arkansas Tech University (Recreation & Park Administration), Henderson State University (Recreation—Natural Resource Management), UAPB (Physical Education & Health, Wellness).

Why is the Program needed if offered at other institutions?

In the Natural State where there is such an emphasis on recreation and outdoor activities, it is vital for the flagship university to offer a program with a concentration on recreation management. More specifically, it is important for our university—the flagship of the Natural State—to research, author scholarship, and teach students about recreation and the benefits of leisure and recreational activities.
